Time: Thurs: periods 9-11
TUR 1315
Office hrs: period 8, Tues/Thurs

This course is designed to give students an understanding of the historical, political and aesthetic import surrounding the attempted destruction of the European Jewish community by Nazi Germany. Through an analysis of Holocaust literature, film and visual media, we will investigate the connections between history, trauma, witnessing and representation. How do authors, filmmakers and artists depict events that shatter traditional forms of perception and comprehension? How do history, memory and imagination coalesce in their respective texts? The course will begin with a discussion of controversial issues of historiography of the Holocaust, including the uniqueness of the event, the nature of anti-Semitism, and the role of “ordinary Germans” in the Nazi genocide. 2) Afterwards, we will investigate various examples of Holocaust film and literature, moving from documentary to figurative forms of representation. Among the topics we will discuss are the aestheticization of trauma, the function of testimony, narrative and witnessing, and the transformation of the Holocaust into a metaphor for other types of suffering. How has the Holocaust been appropriated and reconfigured by artists, poets and filmmakers over the past seven decades? The course will constantly shift from how Germany itself remembers and constructs its representation of the Holocaust to how other European writers and artists represent the destruction of the European Jewish community.

Required course texts:
Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz
Art Spiegelman, Maus I: A Survivor’s Tale. My Father Bleeds History

Please procure these books via Amazon.com or elsewhere ASAP.
In addition, you will find on our Sakai site PDFs with essays and excerpts from books that we will discuss in class.

Course assignments and grading criteria
1. Class participation/Attendance 20/5%=25%
2. Midterm exam 25%
3. Final Exam 25%
4. Final Paper 25%
1) Students are allowed 3 unexcused absences. If you miss more than 3 classes, you will automatically fail the class. Participation will play a major part of the final grade and students are expected to partake and contribute daily to class discussions. You will also be required to keep journals in which each week you are expected to add an article from newspapers or magazines with current events stories that intersect with our topics of study.

2) There will be a final 8-10-page double-spaced research paper on a topic related to representations of the Holocaust. Topics for the final paper will be student-generated and must be pre-approved by me.

3) There will be take home midterm and final exams comprised of close reading of short passages from texts and scenes from films.

Academic Integrity:
Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. Violations of the honor code include, but are not limited to: plagiarism, cheating, bribery, misrepresentation, fabrication, and conspiracy. Such violations may result in the following: lowering of grades, mandatory 0 on assignments, redoing assignments, a final failing grade in the course, expulsion from the course, referral to the student-run Honor Court. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.
