

BE AN ONLINE ARABIC LANGUAGE TUTOR
VOLUNTEER POSITIONS
OPEN NOW

Do you want to improve your language proficiency, tutoring skills and cross-cultural communication skills? If Yes,

The Arabic Studies Program in the Department of Languages, Literatures & Cultures at the University of Florida is providing volunteer opportunities for UF students to practice their Arabic language skills, be more creative, help other Arabic language learners and work under the supervision of experienced instructors in the field of Arabic.

Required Qualifications:

The positions are available for UF students only. You are expected to

- Have good command of Arabic language
- Be willing to devote some time to tutor an Arabic language learner
- Have a passion for the Arabic language
- Have good communication skills and a desire to help other students to succeed
- Be willing to work as part of a team composed of Arabic professors and other language tutors
- Be able to work remotely during Fall 2020

Opportunities for student to volunteer as tutors of Arabic will be available every semester. Tutors are expected to be available online for only one or two hours a week. Hours are set depending on the individual tutor's class schedule. This opportunity will add to your experience as a tutor and can be added to your resume with a reference from an instructor.

To apply, email us (salahalgabli@ufl.edu and sorayadz@ufl.edu) with a short statement of about 200 words explaining why you want to be an Arabic tutor and how you will help the Arabic language learners meet their learning needs.
