

JPN 2230 Intermediate Japanese 1
Fall 2016

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The Yookoso! Series is designed under the communicative approach to learning language. All activities, whether focusing on comprehension (hearing, reading), or production (speaking, writing) are designed to enable you “to use Japanese in real-life situations for different communicative purposes.” (Preface, xvi) By the end of this semester, you will be able to talk about the topics of travel, home and life-style, and transportation in order to function in a Japanese-speaking environment. This course will cover through Chapter 3 of Yookoso! Continuing with Contemporary Japanese. Seventy-three new kanji will also be learned. You must attain a letter grade of C or higher, which is a composite score of 73 or higher, or instructor's permission to continue in JPN 2231.

Prerequisites:

In order to take this course, two semesters of university-level study of Beginning Japanese (JPN 1130, 1131 at UF), or the equivalent, are required. You must have attained a grade of C or higher in JPN 1131 or the instructor's permission to enroll in this course. If you are a new student in the Japanese language program at the University of Florida, you must take and pass the placement exam in order to be allowed to enroll by your instructor, space permitting. The registration form is available at <http://languages.ufl.edu/academics/llc-languages/japanese-studies/>). The placement exam will be given only on Tuesday, August 23, 2016, from 2:00 – 5:00 p.m. You will be given an appointment for the oral interview as well as the written exam after you register. The deadline to register for the exam is 4:00 p.m. on August 22, 2016. Please see your instructor on the first day of class if you have not already registered for the placement exam.

REQUIREMENTS AND POLICIES

1. Preparation for the class

The daily schedule, which follows below, is designed for you to prepare the materials indicated for a given date BEFORE the class meets. You are expected to come to class well-prepared so that you will be ready to participate in communication activities in a meaningful context with your instructor and classmates. Read the assigned pages carefully, listen to the CD, and bring any questions you had while studying for the class since they may benefit your classmates as well! This is an intensive language course for which you will receive five credit hours.

Therefore, you are expected to study for the course at least two hours every day. These two hours include time for you to 1) read the textbook carefully, 2) do the textbook activities, 3) complete the homework and do self-correction, 4) memorize vocabulary and kanji, 5) memorize the assigned dialogues on the syllabus, and 6) review materials. Completing and correcting homework alone is not sufficient preparation to perform well in class. If you do not know how to prepare for the class, please ask the instructor or refer to the study guide in the course packet.

2. Attendance and participation

Attendance and active participation in class are mandatory and will be recorded at each class session. Foreign language learning is a cumulative process, and it is very important that you come to class and practice Japanese every day. Grading criteria for participation will be on a 10-point scale. To receive full participation credit, you must show evidence of preparation for class. However, this is not to say that you cannot make mistakes; trial and error is the only way to learn how to use the language, and you are encouraged to try out the new structures, make errors, and learn from them. Active participation that shows your effort will count towards the participation grade. On the contrary, no participation will seriously hurt your participation grade. You will receive 0 points when you are absent from a class.

Grading criteria for class participation:

- A+ 10 = excellent performance; high level of fluency and accuracy
- A 9 = very good/strong performance with some minor weak areas; memorized most materials (vocabulary, kanji, and dialogues); no need to refer to textbook
- B 8 = good performance with some weakness; memorized some materials; occasional need to refer to textbook.
- C 7 = fair performance, but weak in major areas; memorized some materials; occasional need to refer to textbook
- D 6 = poor performance, weak in most areas, refers constantly to textbook
- E 5 = Completely unprepared, or disengaged from class activities
- 0 = Absent

*In order to get 9 or 10, your overall performance needs to be very good. If you miss memorization assignments (vocabulary, kanji, and dialogues), it will significantly affect your participation grade (-1 point each).

It is crucial that you attend every class for successful Japanese learning. In the event you must miss the class, please contact the instructor prior to the class meeting and have your absence pre-approved, except for documented emergency. You may be excused from the class only if you provide documented evidence (e.g., a letter from the doctor/infirmarary, accident/police report, receipt for car repair).

Please be punctual because you may miss important information and distract your classmates. If you are late to class, you will not be given extra time to complete the exams and quizzes. If you are more than three minutes late three times without your instructor's consent, they will be counted as one absence. If you are more than 30 minutes late, it will also be considered as one absence. If your unexcused absences exceed 3 or more, you will lose 3% from the final grade. Your course grade will be lowered by 1% for each class that you miss after the 4th absence. In the event your unexcused absences exceed 10 times, you will automatically fail the course.

If you are late or miss class for any reason, it is your responsibility to contact your instructor or ask your classmates to know what you have missed and what you need to do for the following day.

3. Japanese speaking policy in class

You have a very limited exposure to Japanese outside of the class, and it is very important that you make every use of the precious opportunities to speak Japanese in class. Therefore, you are required to speak only Japanese in class. When you come to class, it is strongly encouraged that you speak only Japanese with your classmates. You will sign an honor pledge at the beginning of the term regarding speaking only Japanese in class. You learned how to ask permission to speak English (英語で話してもよろしいでしょうか), if it becomes absolutely necessary. Please understand that if the instructor denies permission, it is for a specific reason that will be explained to you after class. A limited amount of English will be used by the instructor to explain grammar in class, at the discretion of the instructor.

4. Homework Policies

General Policies:

If any of your homework is incomplete or missing, your homework grade will be lowered by 1% each time after the 3rd incomplete homework. No partially completed homework or homework which was not carefully self-corrected is accepted for credit. Since homework is worth 10% of your final grade, you will receive a zero for the 12% homework grade after 13 times of incomplete or missing homework.

Grading criteria for homework:

OK =	All assigned sections of the homework must be completed using the new patterns without any blanks or incomplete sentences, and carefully self-corrected using the Answer Key
-1% =	You will lose 1% if your homework is not complete or for any of the following reasons: a. No homework or late homework (When you miss class without an official excuse and don't turn in homework for that day in advance, you will lose 1% of the homework grade.) b. Missing or incomplete sections c. No corrections or missing self-correction (even if partial)

All homework assigned in this course is to be completed by the beginning of class on the due date it is scheduled on the syllabus. Put your non-workbook homework on the instructor's desk before class begins. The instructor will not accept any homework that is not stapled or any late homework without an official written excuse. Please do not hesitate to ask questions about the homework assigned during class. All homework must be stapled with your full name in katakana and assigned date at the top of the first page. In order to receive full credit, all the assigned sections of the homework must be completed using the new patterns -no blanks or incomplete sentences.

NO late assignments will be accepted without written evidence of illness or emergency, except in the case that you notify your instructor in advance that you must be absent from class the day an assignment is due. It is required that you turn the homework in ahead of time to receive full credit.

Policies regarding Workbook Homework and Non-Workbook homework in this Course:

There are 2 types of homework in this course – Workbook homework and Non-Workbook homework. If Workbook and Non-Workbook homework are assigned on the same day, Workbook and Non-Workbook homework must be stapled separately each time.

A. Workbook Homework – Only to be turned in if instructor announces collection at the beginning of class.

Workbook Homework: It is required that you turn in assigned homework on the pages from the workbook. If you do not wish to tear out pages from the workbook, you are required to xerox the workbook pages to turn in. No homework is to be turned in on notebook paper. Often times, the front page of a worksheet is assigned for one day, and the back of the same worksheet is assigned for the following day. In such a case, make a photocopy of the page so that you can work on the questions on the worksheet after you turn it in on the first day. This is your responsibility – there will be no advance announcements in class. It is recommended that you check weekly for this potential situation and make preparations in advance.

1. Workbook homework is always to be self-corrected using the Answer Key. You are required to complete Workbook homework assigned on your own, then do self-correction using the Answer Key.
2. You must do self-correction in a different color ink (not red) so it will be easy for the instructor to see.
3. Doing workbook homework and making self-correction is considered to be self-study and is the responsibility of all students in the class.
4. The Workbook homework self-corrected may be collected several times a week at the discretion of the instructor, and collection will not be announced in advance.

B. Non-Workbook Homework – All Non-Workbook homework assignments are required to be turned in on the day assigned on the syllabus.

Non-Workbook Homework consists of all the homework (a – d) listed below:

- a. Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji worksheets on e-Learning
- b. Reading assignments
- c. Sakubun (including posted sakubun and messages on e-Learning)
- d. Facebook
- e. OLC, Web Assignments (Do not email any of these assignments to your instructor)
 - e-Learning sakubun assignments: You must bring 1) a printout of your revised sakubun and 2) a printout of the messages exchanged posted to the Discussion Board to class on the date assigned.
 - Online Learning Center (OLC) assignments: You must submit a printout of the progress reports with your score (print out a web page that appears when ‘print report’ is selected). Cut and paste only the score report with percentages. You may try the exercises as many times as you wish. The highest score obtained will be considered for the grade.
 - Web assignments: Submit a printout of the screen when you complete an on-line activity (only the score report). The highest score obtained will be considered.

5. Quiz Self-Correction Policy

Upon return of a quiz in class, you are required to do self-correction with extra writing practice – writing each answer 5 times, and turn it in the following day. It is not the instructor’s responsibility to remind you of this policy. No late assignments will be accepted. You must attempt to correct ALL errors on quizzes, or 2 pts will be deducted from the quiz score. You must do self-correction in a different color ink (not red) so it will be easy for the instructor to see. Please write SC (self corrected) at the top of the first page. Do not staple the self-corrected quiz to the regular homework or self-correction homework. For kanji quizzes, when you have missed any kanji/furigana (kanji reading in hiragana), you must write each kanji or compound 5 times.

6. Memorization of Assigned Vocabulary, Kanji, and Dialogues

Memorizing vocabulary and studying its kanji daily is very important to develop your proficiency in Japanese. Vocabulary knowledge is one of the key components for strong performance. Your participation grade and quiz and exam scores depend on your good daily study habits.

Dialogue memorization will help you establish a basic framework for conversation including the target grammar which can then be applied in different contexts. Your instructor will evaluate your dialogue memorization based on accuracy and fluency. It is imperative that you prepare the dialogue memorization listening to the textbook audio program in order to develop good pronunciation and intonation.

7. Policy Regarding Make-Up Quizzes or Exams:

Make-up quizzes or exams may be scheduled ONLY when pre-approved by the instructor or in the case of documented illness or emergency. It is your responsibility to contact your instructor immediately after returning to class and schedule make-up quizzes/exams within 2 class days, or no make-up will be allowed.

8. Learning kanji

Knowledge of kanji is essential for you to become a competent reader of authentic reading materials in Japanese. The learning of kanji is a cumulative process, and it is your responsibility to retain your kanji knowledge over time. To help retention of kanji knowledge, you are expected to use all kanji that has been covered in class in every assignment, quiz, or exam. On exams, you must use kanji you have previously learned to receive full credit.

Kanji Activity: You will be assigned groups for kanji activities to be presented in class. You are to brainstorm and come up with a 15-minute kanji activity exercise to conduct in class. See the syllabus for due dates for turning in your idea/concept for the activity in writing. You are to create exercises that require students to read as well as write kanji, in addition to understanding the meaning. Please create an activity that everyone in the class is engaged in. For example, if you have a team activity and a few students are at the blackboard writing kanji, all students seated should also be engaged in the activity of writing the kanji. You may use powerpoint presentations if you wish, but the emphasis is on making learning kanji fun. There are various games you can create based on such formats as Jeopardy, bingo, concentration, etc. You will be given a group grade for your activity (15 points worth of the homework grade), and the audience members will also be evaluated on their preparation for this activity. The audience is expected to come to class to be able to read and write all kanji in the activity.

9. Language lab

Lab sessions will take place in the Sanako Lab (Turlington Hall, Room 1317). In the language lab, you will practice listening and speaking Japanese and work with character tutorials and web-based materials in Japanese. See the syllabus for specific date(s).

10. Cell phones and personal computers policy

You must turn off and put away your cell phones prior to the beginning of class. Personal computers are not to be used during class unless specific permission is granted by the instructor.

11. Accommodations for students with disabilities

Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Disability Resources office. The Dean's office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor in advance of the beginning of class. It is the student's responsibility to discuss specific accommodation arrangements with the instructor.

13. Religious holidays

Students and faculty must cooperate to allow each person to observe the holy days of his or her faith. Following UF policy, a student must inform the faculty member of the religious observances of his or her faith that will conflict with class attendance, with tests or examinations, or with other class activities prior to the class or occurrence of that test or activity. No make-ups will be given after a holiday unless arrangements were made in advance with the instructor.

14. Academic dishonesty

The University of Florida statement regarding academic honesty and more specifically “giving and/or receiving unauthorized aid on student’s work” reads as follows:

- Giving information includes, but is not limited to, allowing other students to use or copy work or answers to exam questions either while the exam is being given or after having taken the exam.
- Further, the taking of information includes, but is not limited to, copying from the answers provided in the book or ancillary materials, copying from another student’s paper, using information already written in books, or asking anyone, students or not to review and/or correct assignments.
- Students found in violation of this policy will be referred to the appropriate administration for appropriate action according to the student judicial process.

Note: Course Evaluation Process

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available at: <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>.

If you elect the S/U option, you must make a composite score of 73% to receive an S in this class. If you are a current major or minor in Japanese, or you think you might want to major or minor in Japanese in the future, you cannot use the S/U option. It is your responsibility to check the deadline and obtain the instructor's signature far in advance of the deadline to register for the S/U grade option.

Cumulative Final Exam: All material studied this term

You may take the final exam only on the day the exam is scheduled*, unless you have written evidence of illness or emergency. Without such written proof and/or pre-approval by the instructor, you will receive no credit and you will not be allowed a makeup. The "I" (incomplete) grade will not be granted automatically. In addition, you must attain a grade of D or higher to request the "I" grade. This is a strict policy of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

PLEASE NOTE: We have petitioned for an assembly final exam for all 3 sections of JPN 2230, but we will not receive notification of the date, time, or location until the end of October or early November. Please disregard the information concerning the final exam on the current Registrar's schedule. We will make an announcement as soon as possible. As we may be scheduled to take the final exam on the last day and time slot of the exam period, do not plan to leave Gainesville before the end of the final exam period (Friday, December 16, 2016, 5:00 p.m.).
