Attendance

Your perfect attendance is expected. Roll will be taken daily. If you miss class and your absence is unexcused, you will automatically receive a zero for that day. Repeated tardiness will count as absence.

Absences will be considered excused if there is an acceptable reason according to UF policy (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>). Acceptable reasons include documented medical illness, religious holidays, military obligation, and serious family emergencies. It is the student’s responsibility to notify the instructor of an excused absence, and to provide documentation of an acceptable reason. Otherwise, the absence will be considered unexcused.

If you are absent, it is your responsibility to find out what was assigned, and to be prepared on the day you return to class. Be sure to do the following:

1. Check for assignments (in Lingro Learning, and on Canvas).
2. Contact a classmate to discuss what was covered in class and get any pertinent notes.

Preparation and participation

Active class participation is an essential element of this course. Practice builds confidence! Your grade in this category will be based on several variables, including - but not limited to - the elements listed below. Please refer to p. 10-11 for further details.

1. Evidence of your daily preparation for each class

It is your responsibility to cover all the required material before attending class. You should plan to dedicate 12 - 15 hours per week to studying new concepts and vocabulary and completing assigned exercises.

2. *Your effort to communicate *in Italian

3. Your willingness to participate actively in all class meetings

Class time will primarily be spent on communicative activities, so it is especially important that you be consistently prepared for – and actively involved in - all class meetings.

4. Your cooperation during group and pair work

5. Your performance on out-of-class activities assigned for Fridays

6. Your performance on pop quizzes that assess your daily preparation

7. Your positive attitude toward the course, and your peers

In addition, you should be aware of the following:

- Unless specifically instructed to do so, you should not visit outside websites during class (Lingro Learning and Canvas only).
- You should not use your phone during class.
- There is no make-up for class participation.
- The use of translation programs, Italian-speaking friends, or other sorts of aid on any assignment/assessment is considered cheating. This also applies to any preparation for assignments/assessments.

Quizzes

You will complete each assessment in the “quizzes” tab on Canvas. Quizzes will last 15 minutes. You must be logged into the day’s Zoom session (with video enabled) while you are taking the quiz. Class will continue once the quiz ends.

Tests

Tests are found in the “quizzes” tab of Canvas. Each test will cover two chapters. They are scheduled during class time and will be proctored by Honorlock. Please be sure to read the student Honorlock guide (posted on the Canvas welcome page) and watch the Honorlock student video .

Compositions

Composition topics are designed to allow you to showcase what you have learned. You are expected to demonstrate mastery of recently covered grammar and vocabulary, and comprehension of cultural content. Compositions will be proctored by Honorlock. The evaluation rubric is found on page 11.

Lingua Meeting

Four times during the semester you will meet (virtually) in small groups to practice speaking with a native-speaker language coach. These sessions will allow you to engage in conversation related to the chapter you have just completed. This practice will reinforce recently learned concepts and provide you with the opportunity to participate in authentic language exchange.

You will sign up for Lingua Meeting sessions via Lingro Learning.

1. Click the Lingro Learning Percorsi link on the left-side menu of the Canvas homepage.
2. Once you are in Lingro Learning, click the “menu” icon, then scroll and select “Lingua Meeting”.
3. Once in Lingua Meeting, select the appointment time(s) of your choice.

Final interview

At the end of the course, you will participate in a final interview with your instructor. Interviews will be scheduled individually, so only you and your instructor will be present in the Zoom meeting. This assessment will be evaluated using the rubric found on page 11.

Final composition

The final composition will take place during the last week of the semester and will be proctored by Honorlock. The topic will be comprehensive. You will not be allowed to use any reference materials when writing the composition. This assessment will not be administered early under any circumstances.

POLICIES

Make-up Policy

If a student misses an assessment due to a documented emergency, written proof of the circumstances must be presented to the instructor on the day the student returns to class. Medical excuses must be on a physician’s letterhead, must include a statement that says that the student “could not attend class”, and must state the dates on which the student could not attend. A receipt from a visit to a physician is not acceptable. If documentation is satisfactory, the instructor will arrange a time and date for the make-up.

Academic Honesty

You are required to abide by the Student Honor Code. Any violation of the academic integrity expected of you will result in a minimum academic sanction of a failing grade on the assignment or assessment. Any alleged violations of the Student Honor Code will result in a referral to Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. Please review the Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code at

<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>

Accommodations

Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to be given to the instructor by the student who is requesting accommodation.

Grading overview for weekly class participation

Class participation counts for 10% of your overall grade. Missing a day of class (without an acceptable documented excuse, as described on p. 4) results in a grade of 0 for that day.

10%: The student has read and studied the day's lesson before coming to class and is ready to go (book and assignments open) when class starts. They have carefully prepared all homework and complete a planned or pop quiz with a grade of 100%. They are focused and on-task and reply without hesitation when called upon. They interact exclusively in Italian with their classmates and with the instructor. They actively participate in group and pair work and continue to converse in Italian with their partner(s) if they finish an assignment before other students in the class. They volunteer frequently, not only to provide answers to assigned activities, but also (and especially) to participate in less-structured speaking opportunities.

9%: The student has read and studied the day's lesson before coming to class and is ready to go (book and assignments open) when class starts. They have carefully prepared all homework and complete a planned or pop quiz with a grade of 100%. They are focused and on-task and reply without hesitation when called upon. They interact almost exclusively in Italian with their classmates and with the instructor. They actively participate in group and pair work and continue to converse in Italian with their partner(s) if they finish an assignment before other students in the class. They volunteer frequently, occasionally participating in less-structured speaking opportunities.

8%: The student has read and studied the day's lesson before coming to class and is ready to go (book and assignments open) when class starts. They almost always have homework assignments prepared and complete a planned or pop quiz with a grade of 80% or higher. They are focused and on-task, and usually reply without hesitation when called upon. They interact primarily in Italian with their classmates and with the instructor, but sometimes revert to English. They actively participate in group and pair work, and converse briefly in Italian with their partner(s) if they finish an assignment before other students in the class. They volunteer frequently, mostly to provide answers to assigned activities.

7%: The student has usually read and studied the day's lesson before coming to class and is ready to go (book and assignments open) when class starts. They generally have homework assignments prepared and can complete a planned or pop quiz with a grade of 80% or higher. They are typically focused and on-task and provide primarily accurate replies when called upon. They interact in Italian with their classmates and the instructor, but often revert to English. They actively participate in group and pair work, but do not continue to converse in Italian with their partner(s) if they finish an assignment before other students in the class. They volunteer several times during the period, but not for less-structured speaking opportunities.

6%: The student has not thoroughly prepared for class and may be lacking homework assignments. They do not successfully complete a planned or pop quiz. The student is not fully focused and may not be ready to reply when called upon. They interact in Italian and English with their classmates and the instructor. They participate in group and pair work, but less actively than their classmates. They do not continue to converse in Italian with their partner(s) if they finish an assignment before other students in the class. The student may volunteer once or twice, but without confidence due to lack of preparation.

5 – 4%: The student may have briefly glanced at the information for the day’s lesson before coming to class, but they have not prepared the homework, and do not successfully complete a planned or pop quiz. The student is on-task but is unable to participate fully due to lack of preparation. They frequently use English and are rarely prepared to answer when called upon.

3 - 0 %: The student is unprepared for class: they have not read and studied in advance, have not completed homework assignments, and do not successfully complete a planned or pop quiz. Their interaction with classmates is limited due to lack of preparation, and they are unable to answer when called upon.
