

Support for Faculty Research

Support for LLC faculty may take two forms:

- Support up to $1,000 for the final stage of a book project that will result in a research monograph. This may include copyediting and/or indexing. A contract or a message by the publisher expressing interest in the project is required.
- Matching support, up to $500, for inviting scholars from other institutions to LLC/UF to talk about scholarly topics of interest to the LLC faculty at large. To be eligible, faculty should secure support internally (e.g., from the Center for the Humanities and the Public Sphere) or externally (e.g., from the National Endowment for the Humanities) or demonstrate a good-faith effort.

Faculty members should send their requests directly to LLC Chair.

Decisions pertaining to support for faculty research will be made by the Chair based on availability of funds.
